

CANADIAN BUSINESS CREDIT REPORT

This report gives you a deep, broad-based, and comprehensive profile on Canadian businesses, showing at a glance any trends that indicate stability or potential risk.

Compiled through analyzing a vast array of data sources, the Canadian Business Credit Report highlights issues that may not easily be visible through traditional research methods.

A typical Canadian Business Credit Report contains:

- Verified business ID, including common name, legal name, location(s), address(es); phone, fax and email contact; workforce, names of Principals
- Sales volume, financial projections
- Detailed trade lines
- Credit and loan payment patterns
- Lines of credit and guarantors
- 12-month likelihood predictions for bankruptcy, financial delinquency, etc.
- Scored credit risk level
- Frequency of inquiries
- Highlights and alerts
- Derogatory and negative items, including NSF cheques, collections, legal issues and suits, labor disruptions, etc.

We also recommend enhancing your business screening by adding Complete File Credit Reports on Company Principals.
